Using Q&A box, we can type any parameter and get the results. Like here, we wrote number of states and got the result to be shown as 48

Using key influencers, here we get to see that when the brand is Coca-cola, it is more likely to be profitable

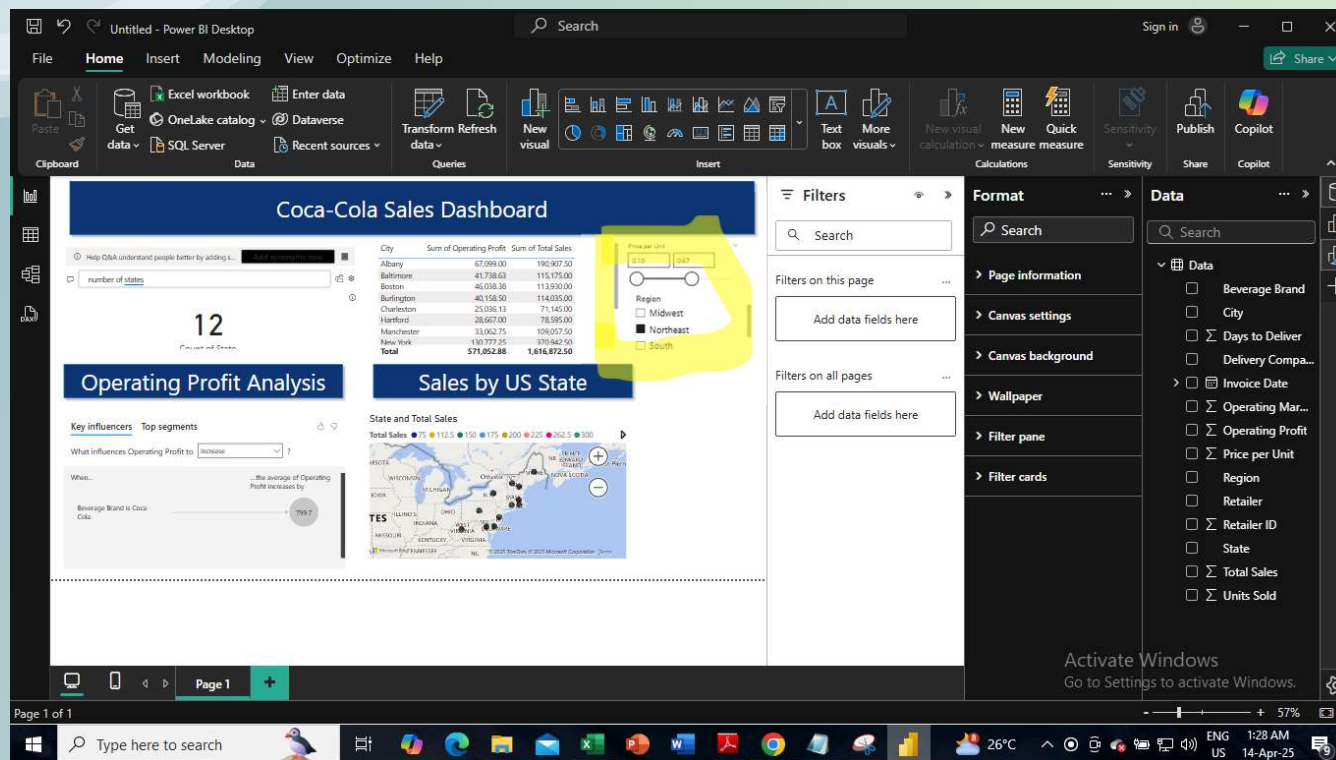

We have used map to show different locations of sales. We can hover over the location and it shows the location name and total sales in the location

Also, we can zoom in and out in the map as we have activated the zoom buttons

We have inserted here 2 slicers – Units sold and Region, which can be adjusted or selected to give different results

We have done a time-series analysis showing the total sales by month
